

Salam

geschrieben in verschiedenen Schreibstilen

The word 'Salam' is written in the Farsi/Nastaliq style, characterized by its elegant, cursive script with long, sweeping horizontal strokes and a slight curve at the end.

Farsi / Nastaliq
persisch

The word 'Salam' is written in the Ruq'ah style, which is a simplified, more upright cursive script with clear, distinct letters.

Ruq'ah
osmanisch

The word 'Salam' is written in the Diwani style, a highly decorative and complex cursive script with intricate flourishes and a dense, compact appearance.

Diwani
osmanisch

The word 'Salam' is written in the Naskhi style, a clear and balanced cursive script with uniform letter heights and a clean, modern look.

Naskhi/Neshi
arabisch

The word 'Salam' is written in the Maghribi style, a cursive script with a distinctive hook at the end of the word and a slightly slanted orientation.

Maghribi

The word 'Salam' is written in the Ostkufi style, a highly stylized and angular cursive script with sharp, pointed terminals.

Ostkufi

The word 'Salam' is written in the antique Kufi style, a very bold and geometric script with thick, blocky letters and sharp angles.

antike Kufi

The word 'Salam' is written in the Gali-Diwani style, a highly decorative and complex cursive script with intricate flourishes and a dense, compact appearance.

Gali-Diwani / Çeli-Diwani
osmanisch

The word 'Salam' is written in the Thuluth style, a cursive script with a distinctive hook at the end of the word and a slightly slanted orientation.

Thuluthi / Sülusi
arabisch / osmanisch